Previous Work experience

- Researched for stories
- Experienced how the early morning show and the mid-morning show was produced
- Went out reporting with reporters
- Learnt how to use the BBC software (Diva Startrack and Highlander)

- Wrote a script to go with the news reports
- Helped to edit audio that I had recorded with reporters that went out on the radio
- Sat in on the live shows
- Learned how the upcoming shows are promoted

During this work experience I learnt how to work to an industry standard and how the different roles in the radio station work together to produce the radio.

Volunteering

I have always been interested in gymnastics and once I had worked through my grades, I went on a coaching program which included competition judging and volunteering. I worked with younger children and taught them gymnastics.

I have recently graduated from Birmingham City University with a degree of Media Production. Throughout my course I have enjoyed working in different styles of television. Therefore for my final major project I created a drama series which I directed and acted in while also designing the set. This got an excellent result. I have also recently been an extra in a Film yet to be released, this gave me a good insight into how a professional crew works on set. I would love to gain some professional experience working in television production. I am a very creative person, and love working in a team. I'm excited to learn about all aspects of professional Television Production.

Current skills and experience

I have experience in using the Z150 camera, in editing using Premier Pro and using studio equipment. I also have experience in filling out paper work for productions.

I have completed my Graduate +Bronze award. I also have experience putting together magazine style shows, live shows, documentaries, dramas and gameshows all created at uni. I also have experience in coming up with content ideas during brainstorming sessions thus helping me create a range of productions.

I also have experience using MS Office as this is what we used at University.

I enjoy working in a team and putting everyone's ideas together as I'm a sociable person.

Throughout my third year I have directed two dramas, teaching me how to manage time and a team.

I currently work parttime in a bar/restaurant so I am used to working at a fast pace and socialising with lots of different people.

I have also achieved my BAFTA Albert certificate, so know how to create social media in a sustainable way.

Interests

I am interested in social media and how influencers have developed their profiles and how they can connect and support people through talking about their own lives. This has an impact on viewers and can support people with mental health, confidence, and self-esteem. I also have a passion for musical theatre and art. Also in my spare time I love to do Pilates and create content for social media, joining in with trends and creating my own post ideas.
